

Packing and Shipping

Ensure products are packed and shipped correctly, with labels and serial numbers for each box or pallet

OUTCOMES:

- - Ensures products are packed and shipped correctly
- - Produces labels and serial numbers for each box or pallet

Accurate Packing and Shipping is a critical piece of the manufacturing process that directly impacts cash flow and customer satisfaction. Care must be taken to ensure that products are packaged correctly, with the appropriate shipping documents and labels.

Cogiscan Packing and Shipping software enables serialized products to be associated with the appropriate levels and types of packaging, ensuring that products are shipped securely, and customers receive them in perfect condition.

Cogiscan's software also ensures you are able to organize the packing and shipping process, by generating barcode labels and serial numbers for boxes and pallets to provide details on what is in each shipment container. The complete information of which product is contained in which box or pallet can be associated to specific customers and purchase orders.
